

Jonny Hughes

Software Testing

4-1-2020

Compare Progress to Test Plan

I have finished a test for each page Testing the User accessibility for various user statuses. This was a large part of the expected testing procedure. What is most important to now get working is interaction with the database via submissions of posts and solutions to problems. Some other smaller Tests to implement would be sorting of lists and link checking. This progress is about along my expected timeline, and approximately 50% toward completion of the majority of the test suite.